DETAILED ACTION

Status of Claims

In response to the Preliminary Amendment filed 8/19/03, Claims 37-51 are pending.

Claims 1-36 and 52-74 are cancelled.

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The Abstract needs to reflect the invention being claimed.

Appropriate correction is required.

2. The use of the trademarks NETSCAPE NAVIGATOR, MICROSOFT INTERNET EXPLORER, and MICROSOFT SQL have been noted in this application. Applicant is required to review the specification for any other instances of trademarks and make the appropriate corrections. They should be capitalized wherever they appear and be accompanied by the generic terminology.

Although the use of trademarks is permissible in patent applications, the proprietary nature of the marks should be respected and every effort made to prevent their use in any manner which might adversely affect their validity as trademarks.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 42-46 are rejected because no useful, concrete and tangible result is produced.

In claims 42-46 Applicant claims an apparatus, but the limitations recited pertain to modules which are understood to be computer code. These modules do not provide structure for an "apparatus" as recited in the preamble of the claims. Instead, the modules provide structure for a computer program. Claims to computer programs per se are not statutory subject matter. A claim to a computer-readable medium encoded with a computer program is a computer element which defines structural and functional interrelationships between the computer program and the rest of the computer which permit the computer program's functionality to be realized, and is thus statutory.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 37-51 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over at least claims 1, 35, and 45 of U.S. Patent No. 6,470,171. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because:

At least Claims 1, 35, and 45 of the patent anticipate application claim 37-51.

Accordingly, application claims 37-51 are not patentably distinct from at least patent claims 1,35, and 45. Here, at least patent claims 1, 35, and 45 require an electronic journal while application claims 37-51 require an electronic notebook. It is obvious that an electronic journal and an electronic notebook are synonymous in meaning. Thus, it is apparent that at least patent claims 1,35, and 45 encompass application claims 37-51.
